

Bringing Visibility and Inclusivity to Transgender Healthcare

Asia Lyons spends her days working with clients as part of VNS Health's Gender Affirmation Program, which provides home-based care to transgender and nonbinary individuals in New York City following gender affirmation surgery. Lyons is a licensed social worker, meaning she is particularly equipped to help clients – but her professional expertise is just one part of what she brings to the people she serves.