

VNS Health Documentary Wins 2 AVA Digital Awards

One of our VNS Health “Neighborhood Spotlight” documentaries, “Ghanaian Children and Families in the Bronx,” won two gold AVA Digital Awards in the nonprofit and documentary categories. The video features Behavioral Health Home-Based Crisis Intervention team members Mary Nketiah, Zamansky Twum, and Helena Tenkorang, who share their experiences caring for Ghanaian families and working with team members to provide quality care.

The AVA Digital Awards recognize outstanding creativity from professionals involved in the planning, concept, design, direction, and production of digital communication. Administered by the Association of Marketing and Communication Professionals, this international competition includes digital campaigns, website development, audio/video production, social media engagement, and mobile marketing.

You can watch the full video below.