Dear Friends,

Welcome to VNS Health's 2022 Benefit to support our Charitable Care and Community Benefit Programs. We are thrilled that we're able to hold this event in person for the first time since 2019—and that you're a part of it!

The theme of this year's benefit gala is "The Future of Care. The Comfort of Home." Since May, when we officially announced our new name and rebrand, you no doubt have heard "The Future of Care. The Comfort of Home." many times. These evocative words capture the distinctive value of our organization and underline the central focus of VNS Health: delivering exceptional and compassionate care in the comfort of one's home and community. Our vision is to make it as easy as possible for the people we serve—as well as our provider and health plan partners—to understand and access the full range of programs, services and solutions that will help them along their healthcare journey.

This year, we honor two esteemed leaders—Eugenie F. Doyle, MD, and Stephen A. Warnke—with the 2022 Lillian D. Wald Award. Named after the nation's first public health nurse and founder of our organization, the Lillian D. Wald Award is presented annually to those who have made significant contributions to the health and welfare of others.

And what outstanding contributions they've made!

Eugenie F. Doyle, MD, Board Member Emerita, VNS Health, has had a long and distinguished career as a cardiologist prioritizing patient-centered health care. Her many professional achievements include serving as director of NYU Langone Health's Pediatric Cardiology program, chief of Bellevue's Children and Adolescent Cardiac Clinics, professor of pediatrics at NYU Grossman School of Medicine, president of the NY Heart Association, and editor of the journal Pediatric Cardiology. Dr. Doyle devoted a significant portion of her career to the clinical management of young cardiac patients and to teaching medical students, house staff and fellows. She also worked closely with NYU Langone's surgeons to develop a comprehensive model for optimal care of children with congenital and rheumatic heart disease. In 2012, she was awarded the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters from Fordham University for "her years of dedicated service to children and their families, and for her generosity toward future generations of physicians."

Stephen A. Warnke, Partner at Ropes & Gray LLP, is a seasoned, versatile, and highly respected New York health care lawyer. Stephen advises complex, nonprofit health systems, government-funded managed care organizations, and community-based human services agencies, as well as some of America's leading health-sector businesses. Stephen is committed to giving back to the community through pro bono service, charitable engagement and mentorship. Stephen has served as a volunteer trustee on the boards of The Legal Aid Society, Legal Action Center, Pro Bono Net and Women's Prison Association, all New York City-based charities. He guided many clients on the front lines of New York's COVID response, for which New York Law Journal named him one of three finalists for "Attorney of the Year" in 2020 and Ropes & Gray honored him with its Outstanding Pro Bono Partner Service Award in 2021. For a decade, he served as the founding chair of FAIR Health, a national nonprofit created to bring greater transparency to healthcare costs and health insurance information.

This year, we are pleased to once again have Kori Chambers, the Emmy Award-winning anchor of PIX11 News, as our evening's Master of Ceremonies.

VNS Health is committed to ensuring that all people, especially those most at risk, have access to the nursing and rehabilitation care, behavioral interventions, and activities of daily living support they need to lead a healthier life, filled with inspiration and hope. We cannot do it without your help. Together with our supporters, grantors and donors, we were able to provide more than $51 million in charitable care and community impact to tens of thousands of vulnerable New Yorkers last year.

Thank you for being part of the future of care, and for joining us in this wonderful celebration of VNS Health's vital community presence. Thank you, too, for supporting us throughout the year in delivering health and the comfort of home to our neighbors in need.

Dear Friends,

It is a privilege to send greetings to everyone attending the VNS Health 2022 Benefit, "The Future of Care. The Comfort of Home." Thank you to the leadership of VNS Health for bringing together this important event and for providing support to the thousands of vulnerable New Yorkers who rely on your compassionate care services. I am honored to congratulate tonight's honorees, who will be receiving the Lillian D. Wald Award for their significant contributions to the health and welfare of others: Eugenie F. Doyle, MD, Board Member Emerita of VNS Health, and Stephen A. Warnke, Partner of Ropes & Gray LLP.

I am grateful to VNS Health for its steadfast dedication and commitment towards the health and well-being of our communities. As the nation's largest not for profit home- and community-based health care agency, VNS Health routinely provides high-quality, cost-effective health care services to nearly 43,000 lives on any given day, especially throughout recent public health crises. It is my hope that these efforts inspire others to take part in actions large and small to enhance the health and well-being of those in our community.

Please accept my best wishes for a wonderful event and many more years of continued success.

Sincerely,

Dear Friends:

It is my pleasure to send greetings to everyone gathered for the VNS Health 2022 Benefit.

In 1893, when nursing and social reform advocate Lillian Ward established VNS Health to provide care and education to New York City residents, she paved the way for an institution that would become a true innovator in home and community-based healthcare. Staff members implement compassionate, cost-effective solutions which enable patients to live and heal amongst cherished communities and loved ones. By adhering to core values of empathy, agility, and integrity, VNS Health ensures that every patient's unique needs are respected.

Today, you come together to bestow the prestigious Lillian D. Wald Award onto two individuals who have displayed remarkable commitment to the care of others. I join in honoring Eugenie F. Doyle, M.D., Board Member Emerita, VNS Health, and Stephen A. Warnke, Partner, Ropes & Gray LLP. This event will also support VNS' Charitable Care and Community Benefit programs, turning attention towards people whose lives will be changed forever by a compassionate helping hand. On behalf of all New Yorkers, I appreciate your commitment to creating a safer, healthier state for all.

Best wishes for an enjoyable celebration.

Sincerely,

Dear Friends:

It gives me great pleasure to extend greetings to everyone on the occasion of VNS Health's 2022 Benefit: The Future of Care. The Comfort of Home.

New York City's health care infrastructure is a rich tapestry, stitched together by its committed organizations as well as the generosity and kindness of hundreds of thousands of nurses, physicians, administrators, and staff. One vital thread within this woven wonder has been VNS Health, whose mission is laser-focused on home- and community-based- health care. This long-standing institution rises on its collaborative and compassionate approach, utilizing hospital and hospice care teams to provide the appropriate resources and specialized care that each patient deserves. From its individualized dementia care and home health aides, to its LGBTQ+ outreach team and community center in the Chinatown neighborhood naturally-occurring retirement community (NNORC), this group has helped fortify our neighbors' bodies, prevent serious illnesses, and buoy our families' spirits through tumultuous times. Today, I am proud to commend VNS Health for its expertise, empathetic treatment, and exceptional patient care.

On behalf of 8.5 million New Yorkers, please accept my best wishes for a rewarding and successful event.

Sincerely,

November 10, 2022

Dear Friends:

As the Speaker of the New York City Council, I am delighted to extend my warmest greetings to everyone gathered for VNS Health's 2022 benefit, "The Future of Care. The Comfort of Home."

Throughout VNS Health's remarkable 128-year history, its dedicated professionals have never wavered in their mission to provide expert, compassionate care to millions of individuals and families.

Through an extensive array of home- and community-based programs designed to meet our city's diverse health and personal care needs, VNS Health has helped reduce the duration of hospitalizations and improve the quality of life for their patients overall.

This commitment to providing high-quality, cost-effective health care has been a vital part of confronting the many challenges created by COVID-19, and I celebrate all of the frontline heroes for their profound dedication and service which has made New York a much healthier and safer city for us all.

Congratulations as well to this year's honorees.

Here's wishing VNS Health continued success in the years ahead, and everyone a wonderful time tonight!

Dear Mr. Savitt:

Greetings to you and to all the friends and supporters of VNS Health on the occasion of the VNS Health 2022 Benefit: "The Future of Care. The Comfort of Home."

This evening's event is a great opportunity to celebrate VNS Health for working with its supporters and community partners to provide over $52 million in charitable care and community benefit programs in 2021, including $3 million in free and discounted home care services to under- and uninsured New Yorkers. VNS Health has excelled at improving the health and well-being of patients, members, and families by providing expert, accessible, and cost-effective health care in the home and community.

Tonight is also a great opportunity to salute your two distinguished honorees, who are being presented with the Lillian D. Wald Award in recognition of their outstanding contributions to the health and welfare of others. I therefore extend my heartfelt congratulations to your honorees, Dr. Eugene F. Doyle, MD, and Mr. Stephen A. Warnke.

On behalf of the 2.4 million residents of Queens, "The World's Borough," I extend our sincere congratulations and thanks to you and everyone at VNS Health for your outstanding work. I hope all in attendance enjoy tonight's VNS Health 2022 Benefit, and I wish you and everyone associated with VNS Health continued success in all your worthy endeavors.

New York, New York 10021

Dear Mr. Billeci:

As Brooklyn Borough President, I congratulate VNS Health on its 2022 Benefit: "The Future of Care. The Comfort of Home." with profound pride and admiration. VNS Health, formerly known as the Visiting Nurse Services of New York, has been in service of New York City for over 128 years when founded by Lillian Wald to provide health services, education, and a safety net to the most vulnerable New Yorkers.

VNS Health stood on the front lines of every health crisis New York City has faced, most recently the 2020 Covid-19 Pandemic. VNS Health adapted quickly to the increasing community need for health care workers while staying vigilant about protecting their current patients' health. During the Covid-19 Pandemic, VNS Health frontline workers and home health aides provided crucial work in keeping New Yorkers healthy at home during challenging times. Moreover, VNS Health established a care management organization in partnership with insurers and hospital networks to provide affordable care to high-risk patients.

VNS Health evolved from just a few nurses in 1893 to a diverse team of nearly 10,000 individuals in 2022. VNS Health rapidly expanded its services from just home care and community programs to hospice care, personal care, and behavioral health and care management. In the 1990s, VNS Health founded the Center for Home Care Policy and Research to lead the way as an innovator in home-and-community-based health care. Through this expansion, VNS Health became one of the largest freestanding not-for-profit home-and-community-based health care organizations in the United States.

I commend VNS Health for its hard work in providing exemplary health services, education, and safety to our most vulnerable. For over a century and a quarter, VNS Health has stepped up to serve New Yorkers with expert and compassionate care while ensuring the safety and well-being of its staff and team members. On behalf of the Borough of Brooklyn, I congratulate your success and look forward to continuing our work together on creating a healthier Brooklyn and a healthier New York City for all.

Sincerely,

Brooklyn Borough President Antonio Reynoso

November 10, 2022

Dear Friends,

It is a pleasure to join you in celebrating 128 years of VNS Health, one of New York's most critical healthcare institutions.

VNS Health has long been a pioneer of home- and community-based health, setting standards that are now modeled nationwide and have led to more equitable access to healthcare. Since its founding, VNS Health has been an indispensable part of our city's healthcare fabric, from everyday care, to natural disasters, to viral outbreaks. At a time when healthcare is unaffordable and unreliable for so many, we are fortunate to have VNS Health working tirelessly to serve all New Yorkers, especially the most vulnerable patients.

It is also an honor to extend my congratulations to this year's Lillian D. Wald Award winners, Eugenie F. Doyle and Stephen A. Warnke. Thank you for your dedication to VNS Health and New Yorkers' well-being.

On behalf of the Borough of Manhattan, I wish you all another year of success.

I want to offer my heartfelt congratulations to VNS Health and its honorees as you celebrate your Annual Gala.

It is my pleasure to congratulate this year's recipient of the Lillian D. Wald Award, Eugenie F. Doyle, MD, Board Member Emerita of VNS Health, and Stephen A. Warnke from Partner, Ropes & Gray LLP.

While we continue to learn how to co-exist with the COVID-19 pandemic, it is important that we do not forget the daily efforts of our dedicated healthcare workforce. This is why I want to thank every VNS Health's frontline worker who despite the physical and mental fatigue, continues to display a remarkable commitment to providing New Yorkers the necessary care.

May VNS Health and its members continue to be a source of inspiration to all the communities they diligently serve. I look forward to working together in our efforts to advocate for the health and well-being of all New Yorkers.

Dear Friends:

I congratulate VNS Health on 129 years of providing compassionate care to New Yorkers on the occasion of your 2022 Gala. The largest not-for-profit provider of home- and community-based health care in the nation, VNS Health does an outstanding job providing invaluable service to nearly 43,000 individuals and families throughout New York State every day.

VNS Health has provided a safety net for the most vulnerable members of our society since its founding on Manhattan's Lower East Side in 1893 by Lillian Wald, a pioneer in the fields of social reform, nursing, and public health. As chair of the Assembly Health Committee, I know its work well. It has been an innovator in nursing care; prenatal, maternal and child health; elder care; chronic disease care; physical therapy; behavioral health care; home health services; and hospice and palliative care.

Last year, VNS Health proved again how vital it is to the health of New York. VNS provided almost one million clinical visits to 104,922 patients. The care provided has led to greater health equity, outcomes, and allowed so many New Yorkers to remain safe and healthy in their homes and communities. VNS Health played a vital role in preventing the spread of COVID-19 and will be essential to the response for any future public health emergency.

I join the friends, supporters, and employees of VNS Health in recognizing the achievements of this year's distinguished Lillian D. Wald Awardees Eugenie F. Doyle, MD, Board Member Emerita, VNS Health and Stephen A. Warnke, Partner, Ropes & Gray LLP in recognition of their significant contributions to the health and welfare of others.

Congratulations to VNS Health on another great year fulfilling your mission, and my best wishes for an enjoyable evening!

Dear Friends at VNS Health and Distinguished Honorees:

I would like to extend my deepest and most sincere congratulations on the occasion of VNS Health's 2022 Benefit - "The Future of Care. The Comfort of Home". As Chair of the New York City Council Committee on Health I am acutely aware of and grateful for the significant impact that quality community healthcare services provides to our neighbors, our loved ones, and our community at large. The work that VNS Health is more than commendable, it is vital to our collective wellbeing. Caring for our most vulnerable is not only a selfless act but a crucial investment that reaps extensive dividends for the future.

I would also like to extend my congratulations to Dr. Eugenie Doyle and Mr. Stephen Warnke for receiving the Lillian D. Wald Award. Continuing the powerful legacy of Lillian Wald is no small feat and I am pleased to know that those who have committed so much of themselves in service to the health and wellness of others are being duly recognized.

LILLIAN D. WALD

In the 1890s, in the midst of what would become known as the Gilded Age, two women in matching dark blue uniforms, each carrying a small black bag of first aid supplies, were a familiar sight on the teeming streets of Manhattan's Lower East Side. Lillian Wald and Mary Brewster had both recently graduated from the New York School of Nursing and were living in a neighborhood populated mainly by immigrants—families who found themselves living in cramped walk-up tenements, struggling to maintain their health as they tried to dig their way out of poverty.

One day in 1893, the young daughter of an immigrant student in Lillian Wald's home nursing class asked Wald to attend to her mother, who lay suffering with an untreated hemorrhage back in her small tenement room. The experience shook Lillian to her core, and at that moment she decided she would devote her life to caring for the poor and vulnerable.

The two nurses began providing nursing services to the community, dispensing healing and advice while wearing badges reading "Visiting Nurse Under the Auspices of the Board of Health." So was born the organization that would one day become the VNS Health.

Recruiting other nurses to assist in their endeavors, Lillian Wald and Mary Brewster headed out on their daily neighborhood rounds, which included educating residents about disease transmission and personal hygiene and providing medical care for illnesses, with all fees based on the patient's ability to pay. Thus, the term "public health nurse" was established by Wald. Additionally, Wald was instrumental in creating the first public school nurse position, and in 1900 she convinced the New York Board of Education to let a schoolteacher hold the first-ever class for children with learning disabilities or physical handicaps. She also initiated the first school lunch program in 1905, and in 1912, after years of lobbying, persuaded the U.S. government to establish the Federal Children's Bureau, charged with investigating and reporting on all matters pertaining to the welfare of children among all classes of people. Wald also believed that every person was entitled to equal and fair health care regardless of their socio-economic status, race, gender, or age, and went on to cofound Lincoln House to extend health care to black New Yorkers and joined Florence Kelley and Henry Moskowitz in founding the National Association for Colored People (NAACP) in 1909. Wald was elected the first president of the National Organization for Public Health Nursing in 1912 and remained a leader and innovator in public health throughout the rest of her life.

Today, VNS Health continues to embody this idealistic woman's wish to nurse the sick and destitute, as we work to fulfill Lillian's vision through a wide range of programs and activities. We are proud to be carrying out her legacy, and to be part of the broader public health and social support network that she helped to establish.

The Lillian D. Wald Award is presented annually to those who have made significant contributions to the health and welfare of others.

We are VNS Health.

New name. New look.

Same expert and compassionate care you've always known.

Our Commitment:

To help people live, age, and heal well by delivering quality, affordable health care where they feel most comfortable: at home and in their community.

Our Vision:

To be the leading payer and provider of integrated, affordable home- and community-based health care.

Eugenie F. Doyle, MD

BOARD MEMBER EMERITA
VNS HEALTH

Eugenie Fleri Doyle, MD, life-long New Yorker, was born in 1921 and decided at a young age to become a doctor. Her father, Dr. Paul Fleri, had an office in their Brooklyn brownstone, made housecalls, and during the Depression accepted chickens or goats in lieu of payment; patient-centered healthcare was learned at home!

A stellar student, Dr. Doyle earned a Bachelor of Science degree Summa cum Laude from Marymount College Tarrytown and graduated from Johns Hopkins Medical School in 1946. In 1947, Dr. Doyle arrived at Bellevue to complete a fellowship in pediatric cardiology before joining the faculty of the NYU School of Medicine. In 1958 she became director of NYU's Pediatric Cardiology program and chief of Bellevue's Children and Adolescent Cardiac Clinics. She became a full professor of pediatrics at NYU School of Medicine in 1970. At the same time, she and her husband, the late Joseph A. Doyle, raised five children, two of whom became doctors as well!

Over the next 25 years, Dr. Doyle devoted herself to the clinical management of young cardiac patients and to teaching medical students, house staff and fellows. She worked closely with NYU's surgeons to develop a comprehensive model for optimal care of children with congenital and rheumatic heart disease. She remains in contact with some of their grateful families to this day. She also edited the journal Pediatric Cardiology for many years.

In 2012 she was awarded the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters from Fordham University for "her years of dedicated service to children and their families, and for her generosity toward future generations of physicians."

In addition to her clinical and academic achievements, Dr Doyle is past president of the NY Heart Association and served on advisory boards, including the NY State Department of Health's Cardiac Advisory committee and the Visiting Nurse Service of NY (now VNS Health) from which she only recently retired.

She is a skilled gardener, seasoned traveler and a devoted fan of the New York Yankees and the New York City Ballet. She credits her happy, nearly 70-year marriage as the secret to her longevity. In addition to her five children, she has twelve grandchildren (including a nurse and a doctor), and 10 great grandchildren. A model of hard work and natural gifts, she is quick to say, "I've been lucky."

PARTNER
ROPES & GRAY LLP

Stephen Warnke has practiced as a health care lawyer in New York since 1991 and has been a partner in the New York City office of Ropes & Gray LLP, a leading international law firm, for the past twenty years. Stephen represents mission-driven hospitals, health systems, managed care plans, non-hospital provider organizations and community-based human services agencies on the full spectrum of health care regulatory, compliance, transactional and governance matters. A former policy advisor in New York City government, Stephen also counsels clients on New York's unique regulatory, reimbursement and enforcement landscape, relying on his extensive experience before the New York State Department of Health, the New York Attorney General and other New York regulators. Stephen is proud to be an outside counsel to VNS Health.

Apart from his active law practice, Stephen is committed to giving back to the community through pro bono representations, charitable work and political engagements. In the early days of the COVID-19 pandemic, Stephen guided many clients on the front lines of New York's COVID response, for which New York Law Journal named him one of three finalists for "Attorney of the Year" in 2020 and Ropes & Gray honored him with its Outstanding Pro Bono Partner Service Award in 2021. For a decade, he served as the founding chair of FAIR Health, a national nonprofit created to bring greater transparency to health care costs and health insurance information. Stephen has also served as a volunteer trustee on the boards of The Legal Aid Society, Legal Action Center, Pro Bono Net and Women's Prison Association, all New York City-based charities.

Born and raised in Washington, D.C., Stephen attended Harvard College and received his law degree from Yale Law School, where he was an editor of The Yale Law Journal. After law school graduation, he served as a judicial clerk to Judge William A. Norris of the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit in Los Angeles, California. Stephen lives in Park Slope, Brooklyn, with his wife Susan Sommer, a civil rights litigator and former National Director of Constitutional Litigation for Lambda Legal, and together they have three children.
